About Vintage

Vintage Energy (ASX: VEN) is an oil and gas exploration and production company supplying gas to south-eastern Australian domestic energy users from the Cooper Basin, Australia. The company is the operator and largest interest holder of the Vali and Odin gas fields. Marketing of the largely uncontracted gas from these fields is expected to underpin ongoing development of Vintage's gas contract portfolio and future production.

Vintage is pursuing additional resources through appraisal of the fields and exploration of its acreage in proven petroleum provinces in the Cooper, Otway, Galilee, and Bonaparte Basins. Commercialisation of the high-grade Nangwarry carbon dioxide resource in the onshore Otway Basin holds potential for long-term value generation.
